

DATA PRIVACY STATEMENT ACCORDING TO ARTICLE 13 OF THE GDPR

(Date: June 2021)

Dear supplier,

Your data is in safe hands with us. We are obliged to protect your data and take this job very seriously. Please take the time to read this information leaflet and obtain an overview of why we collect your data and the way in which we process it.

We would first like to inform you that we process your data legally

- To fulfil our contractual obligations (Art 6, Clause 1, letter b of the GDPR);
- To take pre-contractual measures (Art 6, Clause 1, letter b of the GDPR);
- To fulfil legal obligations (Art 6, Clause 1, letter c of the GDPR);
- For the purpose of completing a task that is in the public interest or to assert public authority, which was given to us (Art 6, Clause 1, letter e of the GDPR)
- For the purpose of legitimate interests of our company or due to legitimate interests from a third party (Art 6, Clause 1, letter f of the GDPR), namely:
 - for the purpose of preventing cases of abuse
 - for internal management purposes;
 - to guarantee network and information security
 - for statistical purposes.

Specifically, we process the following data from you:

- Contact data (name, address, fax/phone number, e-mail address)
- Companies' register number
- VAT number
- Bank details

In your specific case, the data is processed in order to ensure that our contractual relationship runs smoothly.

We will only save your data as long as required for those purposes for which we have collected your data. Please note that for tax and company law reasons, contracts and other documents from our contractual relationships have to be kept for seven years (section 132 of the Federal Fiscal Code, BAO). In individual cases such as pending official procedures, this storage duration can be longer than seven years, where limitation periods for legal claims and also internal company requirements are decisive for storing your data.

In order to achieve the purposes strived for, it may be necessary in some cases to disclose your data to the following recipients. This disclosure can take place by transmission, dissemination or another form of provision. We will neither sell your data to third parties nor market it in any other way.

Furthermore, we would like to inform you that you always have the right

- To request information regarding which of your data is processed by us (see Article 15 of the GDPR for details);
- To have your data corrected or deleted (see Article 16 of the GDPR for details);
- To limit processing of your data (see Article 18 of the GDPR for details);
- To reject data processing (see Article 21 of the GDPR for details);
- To assert data transferability (see Article 20 of the GDPR for details).

If, despite our obligation to process your data legally, your right to legal processing of your data is infringed, you have the right to lodge a complaint with the Austrian data protection authority or another data protection supervisory authority in the EU, specifically in your place of residence or of work. Your data is processed based on your explicit consent (Art 6, Clause 1, letter a of the GDPR). You have the right to revoke this consent at any time without affecting the legality of the processing that took place due to the consent up until the time of revocation.

We hope that this information has provided you with clarity regarding the ways in which we process your data and for what purposes. However, if you still have questions about data processing, please contact our data protection officer (datenschutz@prangl.at).
